Big Rebound in Refinance Applications

Mortgage applications rose during the week ended October 19, an increase the Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) attributed to a rebound from the Columbus Day holiday the previous week. Results for the week ended October 12 had not included any adjustment to account for the holiday. The MBA's Market Composite Index, a measure of application volume, was up 4.9 percent on a seasonally adjusted annual basis compared to the previous week. The unadjusted version moved 5 percent higher.

The recovery in refinance applications was especially strong. That index gained 10 percent compared to the week ended October 12 and refinancing applications accounted for 39.8 percent of total applications, up from 38.1 percent.

The seasonally adjusted Purchase Index moved higher again after retrenching for two straight weeks, increasing by 2 percent from the previous week. The unadjusted version was also 2 percent higher and 0.2 percent above the same week in 2017.

"Mortgage application activity rebounded the week following the Columbus Day holiday, but both purchase and refinance levels remained lower than where they were two weeks ago," said Joel Kan, MBA AVP of economic and industry forecasts. "The holiday impacted refinance applications more than purchases, as refinances rebounded almost 10 percent. Meanwhile, purchase applications increased two percent over the prior week but were still four percent lower than two weeks ago - a sign that both the jump in mortgage rates and tight inventory continue to hold back application activity. Mortgage rates increased over the week for most loan types, with most rates remaining at seven-year highs."

The FHA share of total applications decreased to 10.1 percent from 10.4 percent the previous week and the VA share dipped to 10.1 percent from 10.4 percent. The USDA share was 0.7 percent, down from 0.8 percent.

The average contract interest rate for 30-year fixed-rate mortgages (FRM) with origination balances at or below the conforming limit of $453,100 rose to its highest level since February 2011, 5.11 percent, a 1 basis point uptick from the previous week. Points dropped to 0.52 percent from 0.55 percent and the effective rate was also higher.

The jumbo 30-year FRM, loans with balances higher than the conforming limit, had a rate of 5.01 percent with 0.28 point. The previous week the rate was 4.98 percent with 0.34 point. The effective rate increased as well.

MBA's Weekly Mortgage Applications Survey has been conducted since 1990 and covers over 75 percent of all U.S. retail residential mortgage applications. Respondents include mortgage bankers, commercial banks and thrifts. Base period and value for all indexes is March 16, 1990=100 and interest rate information is based on loans with an 80 percent loan-to-value ratio and points that include the origination fee.
