It's All About The Purchase Market Right Now

It's no great mystery that refinance activity slows to crawl any time rates are at long-term highs, but what about the purchase market? Despite lingering inventory and affordability challenges, purchases aren't simply 'surviving' the recent upturn in rates. They're arguably thriving.

The Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) released weekly purchase and refi application numbers on Wednesday. The "lowest refi numbers in nearly a decade" jumped out as a gloomy headline, but consider the following chart. Refis are merely sideways in the same low range that's been intact for more than a year. Meanwhile, purchase activity has ratcheted steadily higher. It's even done a better job of coping with the recent rate spike compared to the 2013 rate spike.

National Average Mortgage Rates

Recent Housing Data

|                     |        | Value | Change  |
|---------------------|--------|-------|---------|
| Mortgage Apps       | Aug 28 | 226.9 | +0.49%  |
| Building Permits    | Mar    | 1.46M | -3.95%  |
| Housing Starts      | Mar    | 1.32M | -13.15% |
| New Home Sales      | Mar    | 693K  | +4.68%  |
| Pending Home Sales  | Feb    | 75.6  | +1.75%  |
| Existing Home Sales | Feb    | 3.97M | -0.75%  |
| Builder Confidence  | Mar    | 51    | +6.25%  |

This week's construction data from the Census Bureau tells a similar story. Building Permits and Housing Starts (breaking ground on new construction) lost some ground compared to the previous report, but the overall trend remains unequivocally positive. Moreover, heavy declines in the multifamily sector accounted for all of the weakness in Housing Starts and most of the weakness in Permits.

New Construction

Given that trend in construction numbers and purchase applications, it's no surprise to see builder confidence near all-time highs according to the National Association of Homebuilders (NAHB). Here too, the data was slightly weaker than the previous month (their Housing Market Index fell to 70 from 71), but the longer-term trend speaks for itself.

Builder Confidence

In terms of this week's financial market movements, things were fairly quiet in the bigger picture with modest declines for stocks and bond yields. The two generally huddled together throughout the week--typical behavior amid broader uncertainty.

So what's fueling the uncertainty? On Tuesday, stocks fell in response to the President confirming Larry Kudlow would replace Gary Cohn as the top economic advisor to the White House. Several news stories also suggested the administration could soon impose new tariffs on China.

On Wednesday, the Atlanta Fed released a periodic update of its GDP tracking (referred to as GDPNow). Unlike a forecast based on economic research, GDPNow attempts to emulate the math underlying the actual GDP number, but to do so in a far more timely manner. This week's update showed a sharp decline, bringing it below the blue chip consensus for the first time.

Sources: Blue Chip Economic Indicators and Blue Chip Financial Forecasts

Note: The top (bottom) 10 forecast is an average of the highest (lowest) 10 forecasts in the Blue Chip survey.

This accounted for the week's strongest move toward lower interest rates, with 10yr yields falling quickly to 2.80%. From there, rates reenacted their last encounter with 2.80%, unfortunately. That's been a tough floor to break for more than a month now, despite several attempts.

One thing to keep in mind as we discuss rates' unwillingness to push past recent lows, or the huddling together of rates and stocks discussed above, is that we have an important Fed Announcement coming up next week. Most economists and traders agree that the Fed will hike its policy rate. In fact, that's essentially a given, and thus already priced-in to current trading levels.

Of far more interest for financial markets is the TONE the Fed sets going forward. This will be accomplished via the Fed's economic projections (which include their rate hike outlook) as well as Jerome Powell's first press conference as Fed Chair. These ancillary events only occur at 4 of the year's 8 scheduled Fed meetings, and they're increasingly relied-upon for insight to the evolution of the Fed's thinking.

Service oriented, responsive, competitive rates and an in depth knowledge of todays mortgage market

After completing my degree in finance at the University of Connecticut, I started in the mortgage business right out of college in 2004. With 15+ years of experience and a primary objective of thoroughly explaining all available loan options to my clients with what is typically the largest investment in their lives, I strive to always make myself available. I constantly educate myself with respect to the mortgage industry and underwriting guidelines for FHA, VA, conventional and jumbo financing. I deliver on the expectations discussed up front and provide the service level my clients deserve from day one. I will remain in touch throughout the process and continue to follow up with you after closing. My goal is to wow you and turn you into clients for life. I want you to be so impressed that throughout and after the process you share my information with your friends, family, neighbors and co-workers who may value from my services.
