Last Week's Low Rates Drove Ongoing Refi Surge

Applications for refinancing again drove a significant increase in mortgage applications during the week ended February 12 as mortgage rates continued to decline. The Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) said its Market Composite Index, a measure of mortgage application volume, rose 8.2 percent compared to the week ended February 5 on a seasonally adjusted basis and was up 10 percent on an unadjusted basis.

Refinancing accounted for 64.3 percent of the applications submitted during the week, up from 61.2 percent a week earlier and the highest share since February of last year. The volume of those refinancing applications rose 16 percent from a week earlier and the index for conventional refinance applications was up by the same amount week-over-week and reached the highest level since January 2015.

Despite some of the lowest interest rates in a year the enthusiasm for mortgages did not carry over to the purchase side. The seasonally adjusted Purchase Index was down 4 percent from the previous week although it increased by 2 percent on an unadjusted basis and remained 30 percent higher than during the same week in 2015.

The refinance share of mortgage activity increased to its highest level since February 2015, 64.3 percent of total applications, from 61.2 percent the previous week.

MBA's Weekly Mortgage Application Survey which has been conducted since 1990, reaches originators of over 75 percent of the U.S. retail residential mortgage market. Respondents include mortgage bankers, commercial banks and thrifts. Base period and value for all indexes is March 16, 1990=100 and interest rate information presumes mortgages with an 80 percent loan-to-value ratio and points that include the originations fee.

Service oriented, responsive, competitive rates and an in depth knowledge of today's mortgage market

After completing my degree in finance at the University of Connecticut, I started in the mortgage business right out of college in 2004. With 15+ years of experience and a primary objective of thoroughly explaining all available loan options to my clients with what is typically the largest investment in their lives, I strive to always make myself available. I constantly educate myself with respect to the mortgage industry and underwriting guidelines for FHA, VA, conventional and jumbo financing. I deliver on the expectations discussed up front and provide the service level my clients deserve from day one. I will remain in touch throughout the process and continue to follow up with you after closing. My goal is to wow you and turn you into clients for life. I want you to be so impressed that throughout and after the process you share my information with your friends, family, neighbors and co-workers who may value from my services.
